

Corporate Overview

Dyventive recognizes that every meeting and every event is unique, with its own set of requirements and goals. That is why, since 1998, we have been providing customized audio visual and staging, technology rentals, production services and web broadcasting solutions for all sorts of events, for all types of industries, helping clients reach their goals.

Small meetings, large conferences and international broadcast productions, can all be planned and managed through one single point of contact -- maximizing convenience, consistency and cost efficiency. Implementing all of your event demands through one organization has never been simpler or more economical.

Dyventive differentiators:

- Event specific planning teams focus on your event, for a more valuable result
- Dyventive owned technology rentals are always ready to implement
- In house developed web broadcast platform is completely customizable
- Creative production teams focus on the details of executing your event
- Post event support helps you validate your event ROI

Dyventive successfully implements thousands of event technology projects for the world leading pharmaceutical, financial, technology, association and conference and event management organizations each year.

Available, In-house services:

Audio Visual & Staging • Technology Rentals • Production Services • Virtual Meetings

